Ibn Anqa'-His Life, Contributions, and Methodology in his Book entitled "Uncovering the Troubles and Hardships of the two Qura'nic Verses: "Henceforth Troubles and Hardships were sent to Thou" and "Drowsiness has befallen onto Thee

Dr. Muhammad H. S. Al-Omary

Abstract

The research includes two sections: Firstly, writing a biography for Ibn Anqa' and secondly His method in the book entitled ""Uncovering the Troubles and Hardships of the two Qura'nic Verses: "Henceforth Troubles and Hardships were sent to Thou" and "Drowsiness has befallen onto Thee". The research lies in two chapters: The first deals with the life of Ibn Anqa', his ancestry line, his biography, his journeys and the economic as well as the political era during which he lived.

Next, I showed the grammar school he belonged to through analyzing inductively the language items he presented and his orientations toward the Basri and Kufi Grammar Schools, judging that he was Basri-Oriented.

The second chapter was meant to shed some light upon uncovering the troubles and hardships. I outlined the book in terms of its broad titles, plan, and methodology of the author.

I ended my arguments explaining the importance of the book, the reasons of its authorship and I listed the sources from which the author had relied upon, his stand regarding those sources, and his pride regarding writing his books. I concluded by referring to some reservations that could be addressed to him.
